

Table of Contents

Welcome! 3
 Making the Best Use of This Book 3
 Further Offerings 4

1. The Instrument and Its Notes

What Is a Tin Whistle? 4
 Acquiring a Tin Whistle 4
 Anatomy of the Tin Whistle 5
 Let’s Make Some Sound 6
 Whistle-Friendly Notes and Scales 6
 The Names of the Notes 6

2. Holding the Tin Whistle

The Relaxed Whistle Hold 7
 Why Use the Left Hand as the Top Hand? 8
 Seven Steps to Finding Your Personal Whistle Hold 8
 Alternatives to the Bottom Hand Pinky Anchor Point 9
 Training Your Bottom Hand Pinky Using a Rubber Band 10
 Resting Position for the Fingers, and Economy of Motion 10

3. Air Flow and Tonguing

Tin Whistle Embouchure 10
 Clearing the Windway 11
 Breathing and Posture 11
 Tuning the Whistle 11
 Using Your Tongue 12
 Conjunct and Disjunct Tonguing:
 Connected and Disconnected Notes 12
 Exploring Air Speed and Pressure 13
 How Do We Increase Air Speed? 15
 Vibrato 15

4. Fingering and Notation

Two Groups of Three Holes, and the Fingering Patterns We Use 15
 Suit Code: A New Shorthand for Tin Whistle Fingerings 16
 Minimizing Finger Movement 17
 Why Is It So Important to Memorize Fingerings and Note Names? 18
 Finding and Sealing Finger Hole Air Leaks 19
 Feel the Buzz 20
 Tin Whistle Tablature 21
 Learn Your Fingerings by Heart 22
 Practicing 22

5. More Arrows in Your Quiver

Introducing High-Register Notes 23
 Introducing Bottom Hand Fingering with the Note F# 24
 Adding Standard Music Notation and Introducing Slurs 24
 Introducing the Note E 26
 Introducing the Note D 27
 Two Fingerings for High D 27
 The Spade, At Last 28
 A Deeper Look at Tuning the Whistle 28
 Moving Groups of Fingers, and “Crossing the Break” 28
 Introducing the Note C# 29
 Using the Two High D Fingerings 32
 A Fingering Chart 32
 Letting Go of Suit Code 33
 Letting Go of Tablature 34
 An Introduction to Irish Tin Whistle and Flute Ornammentation 36
 Collections of Easy Tunes for Tin Whistle and Irish Flute 39
 Continuing Your Journey 39
 About the Author 40

Tunes

1. Hot Cross Buns, in A major 16
 2. Merrily We Roll Along,
 in Two Keys 18
 3. Hot Cross Buns, in G major 20
 4. Shady Hollow 21
 5. Lonely Island 22
 6. Lonely Peaks and Valleys 23
 7. Smooth Sailing 24
 8. Found a Penny on the Road 25
 9. An Dro 26
 10. Largo from Dvorák’s
 Ninth Symphony 27
 11. Joy to the World 29
 12. Ode to Joy 31
 13. The Londonderry Air/Danny Boy 32
 14. Bonnie at Morn 33
 15. Morning Has Broken 34
 16. Amazing Grace 34
 17. Scarborough Fair 35
 18. Simple Gifts 35
 19. All the Pretty Little Horses 35
 20. We Shall Overcome 36
 21. Star of the County Down 36
 22. The High Caul Cap 37
 23. The Leitrim Fancy 38

Exercises

1. Tonguing a Low-Register C# 12
 2. Try Disjunct Tonguing 13
 3. Try Conjunct Tonguing 13
 4. Playing a Low-Register B 13
 5. Exploring the Extreme Low End of the Air Speed Range 14
 6. Exploring the Extreme High End
 of the Air Speed Range 14

Illustrations: Sam Bartlett
 Photos: Steven Cox
 Back Cover Photo: Shannon Zahnle
 Diagrams: Grey Larsen and Lisa Nilsson
 Audio and Video: Grey Larsen Mastering
 Tin whistle used on the recordings:
 Session D from Carbony Celtic Winds

I’m immensely grateful to Cindy Kallet for her keen insight and wise advice. Many thanks also to Siddharth Bhaskar, Anne Dodson, Ellen Epstein, Dylan Fixmer, Shuzo Hamada, Leslie Anne Harrison, Laura Rediehs, Helen Scholtz, Richard Scholtz and Lawrence Washington for their helpful comments and observations.

